

Rhodesia Regime Acts To Ease British Pressure

SAUSBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—The Rhodesian government moved today to enact measures easing the financial pressure applied by Britain since Premier Ian Smith broke with the Crown Nov. 11.

The Smith regime also has the armed forces ready to blow up the vital Kariba Dam on its frontier with Zambia if British troops make a "hostile intrusion" across the border, well-informed sources disclosed.

Ten all-weather Royal Air Force (RAF) jet fighters landed today in Ndola, deep in Zambia's copper belt, which gets its electrical supplies from the 420-foot-high dam, Zambian President Kennedy Kaunda asked for the British military aid to protect the facility.

Rhodesian Finance Minister John Wrathall Thursday night announced a series of defensive measures to protect the economy from effects of massive British sanctions, which have virtually cut off monetary dealings between London and its breakaway African colony.

Included among the counter-measures were payments to pensioners whose checks have been cut off by Britain. Payments for the assistance of needy relatives in Britain are to be generally reduced, but considered on their merits.

Wrathall also announced that gifts of money to friends in Britain now will be limited to $14 a year.

Smith was awaiting a reply from Queen Elizabeth II on his request that the monarch appoint onetime London lawyer Clifford Dupont as governor of Rhodesia to replace loyalist Sir Humphrey Gibbs.

Study Started On Pay Levels Of Legislators

LANSING (UPI)—The Special Commission on Legislative Compensation set to work for real today on the task of deciding how much state lawmakers are worth.

At its first meeting Nov. 10, several of the 12-member group said they wanted to study not only how much legislators should be paid, but also what kind of service the state will get in return.

The group of citizens, half appointed by the Senate Business Committee and half by Gov. George Romney, has been charged to come up with recommendations to present to the 1966 legislature. James K. Pollock, professor of political science at the University of Michigan, is chairman.

The commission has been studying thick packets of information supplied by the Legislative Service Bureau on compensation levels in other states. But Vice Chairman August (Gus) Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, reiterated Thursday he wants to go beyond that.

"There are a lot of other factors too," Scholle said, "such as how many legislators consider their work a full-time job and the biggest question of all—the whole operation of the legislature."

"They've been operating the same way since 1835, and it's time for a change."

But Scholle denied the pay-raise question would be used as a club to force lawmakers to adjust the legislative process to bring it up to modern standards.

Power Failure Plunges Million Into Darkness

Area In Texas, New Mexico Has Blackout

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—About one million persons in a sprawling section of the Southwest were plunged into darkness Thursday night by the nation's second giant electrical power failure within a month.

The blackout, which blanketed about 20,000 square miles of west Texas and southern New Mexico, was quickly traced to stalled gas regulator in El Paso, and service restoration began in a little more than an hour.

President Johnson ordered military assistance made available to the affected area and instructed Chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission to send an expert to investigate the failure.

Swidler said there was "no comparison" between the blackout and the one Nov. 9 that cut power to more than 30 million persons in the nation's Northeast and parts of Canada.

One Company Involved

"This type failure is uncommon, but not unique," Swidler said. It did not involve several utility firms such as that in the Northeast, but only one power company.

The blackout, which began about 7:58 p.m., and lasted until about 9:15 p.m., M.S.T., cut power from Fabens, Tex., 45 miles east of El Paso, to Deming, N.M., and from Ciudad Juarez, across the border from El Paso, north to Alamogordo, Truth or Consequences and Carrizozo, N.M.

It affected such big military installations as White Sands Missile Proving Ground, Biggs Air Force Base, Holloman Air Force Base and Ft. Bliss. But the biggest inconvenience was to the metropolitan area of El Paso-Ciudad Juarez. The two cities have a combined population of 700,000.

Intruder Traps Woman, 80, In Attic 42 Hours

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Mrs. William J. Brower, an 80-year-old widow, was trapped in a hole on the floor of her attic for 42 hours after an attack by an intruder. She was rescued Thursday.

Her daughter, Mrs. Virginia Carter, came to the house to deliver a package to her mother who lived alone and discovered her plight.

Mrs. Brower, who was described in fair condition in Blockgett Hospital, said she had no food nor water nor sleep during her entrapment.

She said a man entered her home Tuesday afternoon, forced her into the attic and rolled her into a section of the attic where the roof joined the floor. Her feet broke through the unfinished floor and she was trapped.

Dowagiac Driver Killed By Train

DOWAGIAC (UPI)—A Dowagiac driver was killed Thursday when his car collided with a New York Central passenger train.

The driver was identified as Erich William Henkel, 67.

The car was severed in two by the impact, at the Beson Street crossing here. The train was westbound from Detroit to Chicago.

Unions Will Back Ban On Billboards

LUDINGTON (UPI)—The 800,000 member Michigan AFL-CIO is expected today to throw its weight behind a bipartisan bill that would bulldoze a way through Michigan highways.

In joint testimony prepared for a House Roads and Bridges Committee hearing here today, the AFL-CIO and two of its affiliates, the United Auto Workers and the United Steelworkers, urged the committee to recommend passage of "a piece of legislation which will strengthen the State of Michigan's control of billboards."

"The enactment (the bill) will be another step in reflecting the interests and needs of the people of Michigan in our desire to protect, preserve and enhance the natural beauty of this richly endowed state of ours," the statement said.

Victor Scott, Muskegon, staff member of the 450,000-member UAW was scheduled to present the testimony. The first hearing on the bill, scheduled for Wednesday, was cancelled. The second was scheduled for St. Ignace Thursday.

The bill, sponsored chiefly by Reps. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, and Charles F. Gray, D-Ypsilanti, would banish most signs within "protected areas" 660 feet either side of the rights of way on interstate and other Federal highways.

It would allow, however, signs advertising services "in the specific interest of the travelling public," such as food, lodging, and vehicle service.

The bill was introduced last fall to conform with the Federal Highway Beautification Act after the U.S. Bureau of Roads had threatened to cut off some $150 million in matching construction funds unless the state acted to cut down on billboards.

But the bill died in committee when its chairman, State Rep. Josephine Hunsinger, D-Detroit, declined to call a meeting to consider it.

Veteran Of FBI Named Assistant To Edgar Hoover

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Cartha D. DeLoach, 45, an FBI agent since 1942, has been appointed assistant to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The promotion, disclosed Thursday, increased speculation that the 70-year-old Hoover was grooming DeLoach to possibly succeed him when he retires.

Although the attorney general will name Hoover's replacement, the FBI chief's recommendation presumably would carry weight.

Bank Robbers Caught; Face Federal Charge

A 31-year-old mother of three children, charged with robbing the First National Bank of Escanaba of $1,200 on Thursday, and her male companion, today were arraigned on a federal charge of bank robbery.

She is Dolores Darlene Hansen, 31, of Rte. 1, Aubon, Wash. The charges against her are bank robbery and conspiracy.

The man is William J. Besaw, 31, a native of Kaukauna, Wis., who is charged with bank robbery, conspiracy, and receiving stolen money.

The charges were prepared by Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapakis, who said that in addition to the federal charges he would authorize robbery warrants, pending federal disposition.

until she was discharged last Saturday.

Mrs. Hansen carried a red mackinaw jacket over her arm and a gun hidden in the coat, the bank teller told officers.

Pursued By Banker

Mrs. Farrell handed over bundles of bills, pressed the burglar alarm that summoned police, and cried out that she had been robbed as the woman hurried toward the bank entrance.

William Servant, the First National Bank's assistant vice president, and Mrs. Nancy Pinard, another teller, ran after the woman, who dropped her red jacket but fled with the money.

Servant jumped into his car and pursued the automobile the woman had entered.

A man was at the steering wheel of the fleeing car. Servant said that he drove at speeds up to 75 miles an hour through residential streets and abandoned the chase at 6th and Bay Streets. At the police station he gave officers a description of the couple, their car, including the Oregon license number.

Authorities praised Servant for his quick action that gave police the information they needed to halt the fleeing robbers.

State Police, officers of Sheriff Cully Johnson's department, Conservation officers and agents of the FBI were quickly assembled in one of the most intensive man-woman-hunts in the city in many years.

Shortly after 12 — about one

Police reported only one case of attempted looting. Windows of a downtown store were smashed but the would-be burglars were quickly caught.

Thousands of late evening Christmas shoppers got snarled in massive traffic jams but there was no injury.

"People were unusually courteous and cautious and there were less accidents than in a normal period," a policeman said.

The El Paso Electric Co., which serves the blacked-out area, said the gas regulator in its Newman Plant just north of El Paso quit, shutting off a boiler that creates steam for a generator. That cut off 90,000 kilowatts of power.

The failure proceeded, "domino fashion" into New Mexico and across the border.

Power was restored by switching power to another regulator.

$25,000 Bond Each

They were arraigned before Atty. John G. Erickson of Escanaba, U. S. Deputy Commissioner, and waived preliminary examination.

Their trial will be in Western District of Michigan U. S. Court at Grand Rapids, where Atty. Harold Beaton, formerly of Escanaba, is the federal district attorney. They failed to post bond of $25,000 each and will be taken to Grand Rapids next week.

Besaw was captured by Escanaba police about two hours after the robbery and Mrs. Hansen was arrested about four hours after she allegedly held up the First National Bank at 11 a.m. Thursday, by demanding money from Mrs. Sally Farrell, a teller.

Authorities said the couple had been living at a motel in Escanaba since Nov. 17 and the woman had been employed as a waitress at a bowling alley

Hundreds Thank Romney For Gifts To State GIs

LANSING (UPI)—"Thank you again Governor Romney for giving the people of Michigan this wonderful opportunity of letting our boys know we care."

This is just one of the hundreds of thank you notes Gov. George Romney has received from mothers, brothers, wives, friends and other relatives for organizing a drive to send Christmas packages to Michigan servicemen fighting in Viet Nam.

More than 6,000 names of Michigan soldiers and sailors in Viet Nam were sent to Romney at the state capitol. Final day for sending names of Michigan servicemen in Viet Nam is today.

An estimated 4,000 Christmas packages probably will be sent to the Michigan servicemen... packaging will be done next week in Detroit by college students.

Excerpts taken from many of the handwritten and typed notes and letters to Romney all expressed their "deep gratitude" to the governor and his staff for organizing "Operation Michigan Christmas in Viet Nam."

"Our boys will enjoy getting from his home state," one couple wrote. "He'll know he hasn't been forgotten."

A widow receiving a Navy allotment sent in her son's name and asked that a Christmas package be sent to him because she was unable to mail one.

"I dearly love my brother and would willingly trade places with him," explained a woman who offered her feelings of the war.

Deputies Shot In Bank Holdup At Benton Harbor

BENTON HARBOR (UPI)—Two Berrien County deputy sheriffs were wounded, one critically, in a holdup today at the Farmers and Merchants Bank in Fairplains Plaza in suburban Benton Harbor.

Sheriff's deputies said two men were sought in the shooting. One of them was armed with a carbine or rifle.

The wounded officers were taken to Mercy Hospital.

Their names were withheld pending notification of their families.

Blood Supply Short 34 Pints

The Red Cross blood procurement clinic closed Thursday after a three-day stay that resulted in the collection of 246 pints, the Red Cross reports.

The 246 pints plus 11 pints that had been received at St. Francis Hospital since the last visit of the bloodmobile to 257 pints—still 34 pints short of the three-day goal.

The first day of the clinic was at Gladstone, when contributions of 58 pints of blood were received; donors gave 105 pints at Escanaba on Wednesday and 83 pints on Thursday.

Although the goal was not met, the Red Cross expressed appreciation to all of the donors and to the others who assisted in the clinic.

A special appeal had been voiced by the Red Cross for blood to help maintain the vitally needed supply of blood and blood derivatives to serve U. S. fighting men in Viet Nam.

Through the blood program, Delta County residents also obtain free blood when it is needed by them in any hospital. The only charge to the patient is that of hospital administration.

CAB Extending Time For Rule On Lake Flights

Escanaba's effort to keep the "aerial bridge" alive in Michigan's plan for commercial air service got a breather from the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington this week.

It granted to North Central Airlines an extension of time for presentations in the Great Lakes Local Service Case which would have terminated otherwise at the end of the year.

Out of the Great Lakes Case came CAB authorization for the "aerial bridge" flights by North Central Airlines between the two Peninsulas of Michigan via Escanaba and Traverse City over Lake Michigan. The service, when tried by North Central, did not generate the minimum traffic prescribed by CAB and it was suspended.

The authorization would normally expire with the end of 1965 and the Upper Peninsula Air Service Committee headed by Harold Vanlerberghe of Escanaba has been seeking an extension.

Service Revision
With the added time now in prospect, Upper Peninsula communities served by North Central will collect data on traffic potentials to support their pleading for a continued trial of the "aerial bridge" flights, said Vanlerberghe.

North Central asked CAB for more time because of CAB's reported plan to include in the Great Lakes case some revisions of Lower Peninsula air service. Aviation trade reports indicate that these may include the award of some cities now served by United Airlines to North Central.

In intervening in the case the Upper Peninsula communities will strive, said Vanlerberghe, to get CAB to reschedule the "aerial bridge" to serve Lansing and Detroit.

Wrong Itinerary
As tried unsuccessfully the flights, originally planned to operate between Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Traverse City and Marquette and return, went instead from Detroit to Port Huron, Saginaw, Traverse City and Escanaba, with Marquette dropped off the line and with no service to Lansing, the state capital, a prime travel objective from Escanaba, which has many state offices serving the Upper Peninsula.

The prehearing date on the issue is mid-December, with prospect for a hearing in February, March or April. Vanlerberghe will testify for U. P. communities at the Washington hearing, along with Michigan Assistant Attorney General Joseph Blittke of Lansing, representing the Michigan Department of Aeronautics.

North Central at present serves mid-Upper Peninsula cities with air travel to Lansing and Detroit via Green Bay, Wis.

Salvation Army Asks Names For Yule Baskets

The Salvation Army is now receiving names of needy families for Christmas baskets.

The deadline for receiving names is Friday, Dec. 17. Persons suggesting names should state ages of children and whether a girl or boy. The Christmas basket list is not automatic from one year to the next, as circumstances change for the better through the year, for many families, it was explained. The Salvation Army has earned a reputation for its ministry of mercy. The Salvation Army makes it easy to share with others at Christmas time by dropping a contribution into one of the red kettles, or by sending a check to the Salvation Army, 112 N. 15th St.

Last year the Salvation Army helped over 1,000 families with baskets and over 1,000 children received toys.

U.P. To Fight Milk Price Cut At Market Meet

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will hold a public hearing in Green Bay, Wis., Dec. 9 to consider temporarily keeping fluid milk prices to farmers at their November 1965 level, under the Michigan Upper Peninsula and Northeastern Wisconsin Federal milk orders.

The orders set minimum prices to dairy farmers, but do not regulate prices consumers pay.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service officials said the hearing will open at 10 a. m. in the Holiday Inn, U. S. Highways 41 and 32, S. Astland Ave., Green Bay. It was requested by cooperative associations of milk producers supplying each of the two markets.

USDA Hearing
Proposals will be brought before the hearing on the need for emergency action to maintain fluid milk (Class I) prices for December and immediately ensuing months, at approximately the same level as was effective in each of the markets during November 1965.

The hearing will provide opportunity for everyone interested, including farmers, milk dealers, and consumers, to present evidence on any emergency conditions relative to the need for amendment or suspension action.

After considering evidence presented at the hearing, USDA may recommend changing the orders. The recommendations would be subject to approval by at least two-thirds of the dairy farmers serving each of the areas, before the changes could be made.

Reading Aid To Receive $8,500

Bark River-Harris Public Schools reported Michigan Department of Education tentative approval of a remedial reading program under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The program, one of the first in the state to be approved, is designed to help students in the elementary grades improve their reading skills. It will concentrate on aid to pupils who are finding their present educational program difficult due to a reading problem, said Superintendent Richard J. Hendra.

The project calls for a federal grant of $8,500. The funds will allow Bark River-Harris to employ a teacher for the remedial reading program, as well as to purchase equipment and furniture to operate the project.

Several other projects including reading aid for older students, speech correction, aid for the mentally handicapped, remedial arithmetic, and a summer instruction session, are being worked on for submission to the MDE.

The proposed projects have been under consideration for some time, but due to a lack of funds have never been set up. "The Board of Education hopes to be able to expand the present curricula into these fields, to help all students achieve the maximum their ability allows," said Hendra.

Mail Delivery Helped A Lot By Earliest Posting

If people held Christmas mail until the last moment, even a high priority letter could be bogged down in the avalanche," says Postmaster James E. Pryal.

"While the late delivery of Christmas mail may not be tragic," the postmaster said, "much of the joy of Christmas would be lost."

About seven billion pieces of mail will be delivered nationally in the Christmas peak season. "To make sure it gets to the proper destinations in time, everyone should plan to mail as far in advance as possible," says Pryal. "Mail as early as possible and not save all gifts and greetings for one deposit."

"Mailing should double check the addresses against the items they are sending. ZIP Code should be used in all mail—return and destination addresses."

County To Vote Monday On Millage For Airport

Electors of Delta County will vote Monday in a special election on the Escanaba Airport.

Polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

The question is: "Shall the County of Delta levy a tax not to exceed two mills for one year, 1966, for the purpose of sharing the costs of capital improvements, including a terminal building and extended runways for the publicly owned airport located in the City of Escanaba in Delta County?"

The tax, if approved, would raise about $153,000 to be used with state and federal aids which would provide improvements totaling $521,000.

Any qualified elector is eligible to vote. Voters need not be property owners.

Supervisors Ask Vote

The election was called by the Delta County Board of Supervisors after a report to the Board by a special Airport Study Committee. The committee report recommended that Delta County take over operation of the airport from the City of Escanaba.

The Escanaba City Council has indicated it would be willing to deed the airport to the county for $1.

In a campaign waged largely by service club circles and through area news media, the millage has won the support of county industrial leaders. Members of the City Council also have approved the issue.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has worked strongly for passage. In a survey conducted by the Daily Press, eight of 12 supervisors who responded to a special questionnaire back the proposal. In addition, Gladstone Mayor Frank Stupak has joined Escanaba Mayor George Ruch in recommending passage.

Voice Opposition

Opposition has come from three township supervisors and one city commissioner from Gladstone. Arguments against the proposal revolve around the obligation of Delta County to take over an airport from which Escanaba allegedly gets most benefit and also the advisability of adding two mills tax for an airport when the county still needs bridges in rural areas.

There has also been opposition based on the advisability of Delta County taking over the airport when its budget is already bulging.

The last questionnaire received by the Daily Press was from Councilman Glenn Moreau of Escanaba, who favored a "Yes" vote.

"With the growing demand for air travel we must keep in step, as we can see the demands industry has on the airport at present," Moreau wrote. "I'm sure air freight will be a big factor in the near future. Also passenger service will be stepping up. To lure industry to our area we must meet our obligations. Let's go of the polls on Monday and put Delta County out in front."

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, which assisted the Airport Study Committee with preparation and distribution of its report on Delta County's air service needs, planned a last-minute campaign in favor of the proposal.

Letter Circulated

A letter by President Forrest Henslee circulated today says, "Industry has an economic need for an improved airport and more efficient air service. Our industry is too far removed from major markets to tolerate obsolete air transportation facilities. We must give industry the means with which to justify their expansion programs in our area. The improved airport will protect jobs in the county as well as in the City of Escanaba.

"You need not be a property owner to vote."

The Chamber plans a phone campaign Monday to remind voters of the election.

Polls in Escanaba are as follows: Precinct 1—Delta County Building; Precinct 2—Bay de Noc Community College; West Hall; Precinct 3—Bay de Noc Community College, Catherine Bonifas Hall, East Side; Precinct 4—Jefferson School; Precinct 5—Junior High School; Precinct 6—John A. Lemmer School; Precinct 7—Webster School.

Gladstone voters will ballot in the City Hall.

Townships will vote in the Township Halls.

Clevenger Talks At High Schools

Rep. Raymond F. Clevenger (D-Sault Ste. Marie) launched a two day tour on Thursday, which when finished this afternoon will have taken him to Gwinn, Ishpeming, Champion, Marquette, Negaunee, Escanaba, Manistiquette and home to the Sault.

The congressman spent Thursday afternoon meeting school, village, township and K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base officials at Gwinn High School. He spoke to them and the high school students at an assembly, described the workings of Congress and explained his functions as district representative. He said that the job of a congressman is not just to pass legislation, but to also be concerned with administration of the legislation.

During the questions period he told students that he ran for Congress because "I thought I could do a better job than the man in there was doing."

He said the three main accomplishments of the first session of the 89th Congress for the people of Upper Michigan were the Economic Development Act, the Elementary and Secondary Act, and the Higher Education Act.

Answering questions, he said he was 18 when he went to war and he felt then that he should have been allowed to vote. He said he still feels that the minimum age for voting should be 18.

He said he hopes he will "find enough friends to encourage him to run again for Congress. I'd like to be a congressman until they have to bury me," he said. "The work is fascinating, interesting and has proved to be a very satisfying experience."

Clevenger said he was interested in seeing what could be done to better implement the legislation of the last session of Congress and also hoped to prepare himself for the second session of the 89th Congress, which convenes Jan. 10.

Gemini Pilots Coast In Last 24-Hour Wait

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Gemini 7's marathon pilots today coasted into the final 24 hours before launch with weather posing the only threat to the start of their two-week space flight which may be extended by a day.

Things were going so well for Saturday's 2:30 p.m. EST blastoff that astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell planned to take the afternoon off after sitting in on the final decision-making session this morning.

Project officials were confident. Mission Director William Schneider said there was "high confidence" the voyage of Gemini 7 and the attempt of Gemini 6 to rendezvous with it Dec. 13 would be successful.

The weatherman was the only worrier. He cast a shadow on the scheduled opening of the two-part cosmic drama by reporting late Thursday that a fast-moving rainy area was headed toward the Cape.

"We're not overly concerned," said one space official Thursday night. "We expect to have some rain within 36 hours, but it shouldn't affect the launch."

Engineers were busy preparing the heavily loaded Gemini capsule for flight. The ship's vital fuel cell electrical power system was set to be turned on later today in a crucial launch step.

Barring complications, crews will start pumping thousands of gallons of high-powered propellant into the mighty Titan 2 rocket tonight.

Technicians also were busy working on a second set of space machines — the Gemini 6 ship that astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford plan to use to catch up with their orbiting comrades.

Mrs. Lee Beeck Guest Speaker At Rock PTA

Mrs. Lee Beeck, president of the Rapid River PTA spoke on the topical flouride program during the recent Rock PTA meeting. Rapid River is hoping to initiate the program in the surrounding areas. To learn more about the program, Mrs. Clayton Kanerva, Mrs. Donald Berg and Mrs. Robert Koski attended the Rapid River meeting as delegates from Rock.

The PTA members again voted to serve lunch during the home basketball games. The membership also voted to purchase one new gown for the high school chorus.

The annual Christmas program will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 21, starting at 6:30 p. m. at the Rock school gym. School will be dismissed on Dec. 22 for Christmas vacation. Classes will resume on Monday, Jan. 3.

Mrs. Nelson's room won the room attendance award. Lunch was served in the home ec room after the meeting. Since there is no December meeting, the next PTA meeting will be Jan. 24.

Even If You Don't Fly

Delta County votes next Monday on a proposal to levy a tax of 2 mills ($2 on $1,000 of tax valuation) for one year only to pay for improvements at the Escanaba Airport.

The Delta County Board of Supervisors called the election after a study committee on which some of its members served recommended airport modernization as a need of job-making in the county. The supervisors said they'd interpret a "Yes" vote as indicating public desire that the county take over the airport. The county has been helping support the city-owned airport.

The study committee said the airport benefits are widespread and that the support should be broader based than just the City of Escanaba.

Industrialist John Anthony headed the study committee of city and county men who surveyed the area's airport needs. They had in mind all the needs—those of the country areas as well as the cities. They studied the fringe benefits that come to everyone through speedy air transport, like mail, drugs, specialists, parts for emergency repairs, vital freight, crisis visitation, etc.

They stress one major point: We need good air service because we need means of support for our people of Delta County and adjoining areas. In modern America that means we need industry. And industry needs air transportation. Industry won't be found in any size where the air service isn't good.

To have good air service you have to have a good airport. It's as simple as that. That's what the election on Monday is about.

The Escanaba Airport isn't a good one. It's terminal building is inadequate and unsightly. Its facilities are very bad and it makes a dreadful impression upon air visitors to Escanaba. We might put up with this, but it is also hazardous, being too close to the runway for modern traffic.

The apron for parking planes and the taxiway are inadequate. These matters affect the safety of the airport.

And the port's longest runway is too short for safe jet plane landings and takeoffs and must be extended 1,500 feet. Industry's jets already are landing on the port despite its marginal accommodations for them and North Central Airlines will be flying its first jets in 1967. Delta County is on the air map now and it must get on the jet map.

The tax will be for only one year—like the 2 mill tax that built the new Delta County Jail. Unlike that tax, it will pay a benefit for the county. It will make Delta County more attractive to industry because its isolation will have been reduced by good air facilities. It will help the industries which we have here now to expand their operations through fast movement of executives and specialists, and of vital materials and equipment.

John Anthony's committee notes that the state equalized tax valuation of Delta County rose from $61.5 million in 1957 to a $76.3 million in 1965. That's a gain in value of $11.8 million. Under the 15 mill property tax that means an added income to local governments of $177,000. This is the kind of growth that's needed here.

That's why the airport improvements are needed: they nourish growth. The $152,000 that the tax will raise will be complete local financing for a state and federal aid project that will total more than $500,000.

The construction itself will make jobs, but the improved jet airport will prepare the way for many more jobs.

The committee has done a good job of describing the need and the possibilities. Local industry, which will bear the biggest part of the taxes for the improvements, has endorsed it solidly.

To get county-wide support won't be easy. Frank Buttner, North Central Airlines vice president, cites that only 15 per cent of Americans have ever flown. The Air Transport Association found that 50 per cent of the U.S. population never travels more than 100 miles away from home in any year and, worse, has no desire to.

It's people's have complete right to stay home if they want to, but all the people—traveled or stay-at-home—must live, need income, want jobs and a community with abundant means. So we'd better make it possible by providing the means for the men who must travel to create jobs to do that traveling to Delta County.

The Doctor Says:

Loafer's Heart Vulnerable

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Every now and then we hear about the dangers (greatly overestimated) of athlete's heart. It is high time we stop and take a look at loafer's heart. Practically all athletes, amateur and professional, are or have been under the supervision of a coach well-trained in body building and hygienic living. The loafer gets little, if any, supervision and ignores or scoffs at the rules of health maintenance.

During exertion the athlete's heart pumps an increased volume of blood to the tissues that need it. It does this efficiently and during periods of decreased activity relaxes longer and more completely between beats than does that of the nonathlete.

Hearts are weakened by disease or congenital defects. Because overexertion can damage a heart that is thus weakened, all prospective athletes should have a thorough physical examination. Any athlete who finds himself becoming winded more easily than before, who has marked palpitation following exertion, who feels weak or shaky 10 minutes after stopping his exercise or who sleeps poorly after a major event, should promptly report to a physician for a re-examination.

The loafer's heart is only seemingly healthy. It is geared to a life of physical inactivity and when some unusual exertion is called for, he is overtaxed. It is called for, he is running for a street car or climbing a couple of flights of stairs while an elevator is being repaired, it is not up to the task. It is also more vulnerable to emotional pressures and excessive smoking.

The athlete whose sports career comes to an end can exchange his good heart for a loafer's heart if he does not keep up his physical activity or taper off gradually. On the other hand, the loafer can exchange his flabby heart for an athlete's heart if he adopts a program of regular physical exercise, working up gradually and avoiding any of the aforementioned symptoms of overexertion.

Q—I have 20-20 vision but my eyes will not focus. My doctor is treating me for an overactive thyroid. Does this have to be treated for a long time before the symptoms clear up?

A—Without focusing it is impossible to make 20-20 or normal on the eye-testing chart. Treatment of over-activity of the thyroid will clear up such symptoms as tremors, emotional instability and excessive sweating in about a week. For other symptoms another cause should be sought.

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There is a growing belief in the Pentagon and State Department that the U. S. military should play a larger peace-time role in promoting U. S. aims (and responsible governments) in Latin America and other developing areas.

This belief has been strengthened by the apparent success of the Inauguration military (25,000 of whom have had U. S. training) in battling the Communists.

In bygone years, U. S. diplomats looked at Latin military leaders as irresponsible dictators (types who would overthrow a constitutionally elected government at the drop of a saber).

But a State Department analysis of the role of the Latin military in recent years comes up with some surprises. By and large, the military has been a major force in pushing democracy in a number of South and Central American states.

The military men have stepped in to oust dictators. They have followed through by calling for needed reforms (as in Brazil) and have promoted elections.

They have, in a number of instances, kept the Alliance for Progress aims in a country from dying on the vine. This change in the Latin military outlook, officials note, is the result of a change in the men who form its officer corps. The average officer today is most likely from the middle class, not the aristocracy. He is interested in preserving old privileges and traditions. Broader government competitive economies and democratic elections are to his interest and the interest of his family.

Whether this reasoning is correct or not, it is clear the military is a dominant force in many Latin developing nations.

Questions And Answers

Q—For how long did the late Dr. Albert Schweitzer operate his jungle hospital in Africa?

A—For 52 years, from 1913 to 1965.

Q—What is the meaning of the name "Agatha"?

A—This Greek name means "good; kind."

Q—By what name is Mount Everest known to the Tibetans?

A—Chomolunga, which means "goddess-mother."

Q—The nest of what bird is used for food?

A—The Chinese use the nest of certain swifts of southeastern Asia to make bird's-nest soup, which they value highly as a luxury food.

Q—Who was the first U. S. president to go through the Panama Canal while in office?

A—Franklin D. Roosevelt on July 11, 1934, aboard the USS Houston.

Q—What is the meaning of "Mac" as a prefix in so many names?

A—It is a Gaelic word meaning "son."

Q—What type of a horse is a gelding?

A—A male horse that cannot be used for breeding.

tions and elsewhere.

The military establishment is often the nucleus around which a new regime is forced to build. Military leaders thus become arbiters of political power.

With this analysis as a basis, here is how some key Pentagon and State Department officials think.

U. S. military leaders often enjoy close professional relations with key army, navy and air force men in the development nations.

They can use this close contact to build personal friendships.

They can "educate" the Latin (and other) military men in the U. S. concept of the proper relationship between the military and the civilian government—hopefully, gradually get the Latin to accept civilian superiority.

They can pass on to these fellow officers democratic concepts.

They can steer the armed forces of the Latin nations into three avenues:

1. Organizing public safety, public health and civil works projects to win the confidence of the people, make them more friendly to the government and less susceptible to Communist influence.

2. Educating draftees in reading and other skills they will need in civilian life after discharge. Then the young soldier, often away from home for the first time, can return to assist his own community.

3. Building bridges, canals, communications, as did the U. S. Army in frontier days, to create the basic understructure needed to accelerate economic development.

Letters To The Press

MILLION

It is a philosophical fact and real good logic, psychologically that Mayor Ruch and Councilman Vanderberghe are absolutely and positively correct in saying the city should keep their $1 million in the bank and annually lend only the interest for capital improvements.

The people should do this, save the interest for four years and then buy a good furnace to melt sand into liquid glass to make glass bricks — big bricks, size 12x24x6 inches.

The bricks, green or red or white or blue with powder color dyes in the liquid glass, are big enough to make buildings 5 or 6 stories in height.

You can use any sand to make the bricks, providing the sand is that transparent crystal rock sand. The idea is to buy land where large hills of sand will last for many years when using it to make glass bricks.

The best place to buy sand land is on southern Lake Superior shore. Best location can be found by investigation. There are many miles of sand shore, all sand, there. Not near any towns, thus the land won't cost more than $1,000 to $4,000 for forty acres.

Put the melting furnace there, then truck freight half the output of bricks to Escanaba where you have the company's headquarters and a brickyard and freight by boat the other half of the output to buyers in Lower Michigan and Chicago.

The business would make for you a clear profit of $1 to $2.5 million yearly certified to sell the bricks is easy; undersell competitors, such as 2 or 3 cents per brick.

Mr. Alvin Kinberg, President Upper Peninsula Machine & Engineering Co., Powers, Michigan

I was very happy to learn recently that people in your area have subscribed the funds needed for a sizable expansion of the production facilities of your company.

Thus, we have another of those occasions where the people of the Upper Peninsula have dug deep into their pockets to help establish a local industry or assist one to grow. I feel that both your company and the people who have pledged their money to help expand your plant are deserving of a great deal of commendation for their courage and determination.

It is to be hoped that the expanded facilities will enable your company to grow and prosper in full justification of the faith you and the people of your community have displayed.

From the files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 YEARS AGO

Escanaba has gone through eleven months with just one traffic fatality. Police will tell you in a rather prayerful tone that they are proud and thankful for the record.

Viola St. Martin, 15, of 1501 S. 12th St., put an extra common pin in her mouth for safe keeping, as she was busy engaged in decorating at St. Anne's hall for the coming church bazaar. Yesterday she was in St. Francis Hospital with a very sore throat but, well on the way to recovery. The pin she swallowed was removed from the upper part of her throat where it had lodged.

50 YEARS AGO

When Mrs. Thorp was returning from the Hessel home on Ogden Ave., where she had been working for the day, her purse containing $7.00 was taken from her. Mrs. Thorp was hit in the back of the neck by the man and was partly stunned as she fell to the walk.

Dudley Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thompson, 524 Ogden Ave., tested the ice on the bay off the south shore with decidedly damp results. He ventured out farther and when the ice began to crack ominously, he made an effort to hasten to the shore. When his feet slipped from under him the impact sent his body through the thin ice coating, and he found himself sitting up to his chin in two feet of decidedly cold water. After considerable floundering he managed to extricate himself and made his way to his home.

Lawyer Ex-Do-Gooder Is Discouraged

PATENT IT!

Even in this era of large-scale research, a surprising number of inventions still come from the tinkering individual. Valuable patents are still being won by "basement inventors" ingenious enough to come up with something new.

However, to be entitled to a patent, an invention must be not only new but also — in the wording of the United States Constitution — "useful." What kind of an invention is useful?

First of all, it must be able to work.

One man invented a "perpetual motion machine," complete with a dazzling array of doodads and thingamabobs. But his invention was held not patentable because, being contrary to the laws of nature, it could not possibly do the job it was meant for.

Second, to qualify as useful, the invention must do something that is beneficial, not harmful, to society.

Thus, courts have denied patent rights to a device for faking the quality of tobacco leaves, and to a gadget for "curing" disease by mysterious vibrations. Both inventions were found to be useful only for the purpose of cheating — hence, not useful in the Constitutional sense.

What if an invention, while useful for evil, is also useful for good? That is enough basis for a patent.

For example, an improved pistol could be patented. Although an instrument for evil in the hands of a robber, it could also be an instrument for good in the hands of a policeman.

A third requirement for an invention to be considered useful, is that it must be more than a mere frivolity.

Of course, what is frivolous to one generation might not be to the next. A century ago a federal court said that a hoop skirt could not be patented, because it had no serious value to society. But today's courts are not likely to be that prim and proper.

As for what might be called "odd-ball" inventions, the Patent Office generally takes a tolerant view. For instance, it has issued patents for an automatic hat-tipper, a shield for grapefruit-eaters, and a gun for shooting down flies.

For who can be sure that the oddity of today won't be the success of tomorrow? Wise men scoffed, too, at Alexander Graham Bell's talking toy — one of the most useful, and profitable, inventions of all time.

Governor of Michigan

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy 16 years of age and I never thought I'd wind up on your couch, but here I am.

Kids have written to you about acne before and lots of them have it bad, but mine is the worst case anybody ever saw. I'm such a horrible mess that some days I walk around the block four times before I can get up the nerve to go to school.

Ever since a dentist pulled the wrong tooth in mom's head, she has had very little faith in dentists or doctors. She says if I just leave the acne alone it will clear up by itself because acne is something that must be outgrown. According to her, too many people over-doctor themselves and wind up in worse shape than before.

I consider you a friend to teen-agers. If you say Mom is right I will shut up. But I do hope you'll take my side and be my buddy for life. — HIDEOUS SIGHT

Dear Friend: A skin specialist can help you and I hope you will go to one immediately. A change of diet, proper medication and lamp treatments can make a world of difference. Get going, Buddy. (And if you have trouble with your mother show her my answer.)

Dear Ann Landers: I hear so much talk about how cold and unfeeling people are these days. I am now of the opinion that folks who complain about shabby treatment darn well deserve it.

I can't count the times I have held the door for women at the supermarket only to have them walk right past me as if I were paid by the store to give this service. Yesterday when it happened for the umpteenth time I felt like letting the door go right in the woman's kisser.

I try to be considerate and courteous. When I drive I often let other drivers in ahead of me. One driver out of 25 will wave a sign of appreciation. Most of the hogs keep right on going as if you owed them the favor. From now on I plan to live by the rule, "Nice guys finish last." — FORMER DO-GOODER

Dear Former: Forgive the cliché, but it does indeed take all kinds of people to make a world and I'm sorry you are running into so many of the wrong kind.

Instead of acting according to your best instincts you are

REACTING to the worst behavior of slob. Darned if I'd let these low types make me one of THEM.

Dear Ann Landers: I am getting a divorce from a miserable heel and I'd like my maiden name back. I don't want anything around to remind me of the man who brought me so much agony.

My friends tell me it would not be right to do this because of my children. They say it would be embarrassing and confusing if Johnny and Susie Brown's mother was Miss Mary Green.

I need your advice. — NAME PROBLEMS

Dear Name: Even if you don't want anything around to remind you of the heel, you're going to have two constant reminders — Johnny and Susie.

Children deserve to have a mother with a Mrs. in front of her name. Unload your anger some other way and keep your husband's name for the sake of the children.

"The Bride's Guide." Ann Landers' booklet, gives authoritative and complete information on how to plan a wedding. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Permits Easy Expansion

By ANDY LANG

Compactness is an essential characteristic of a modest home that can serve for a couple or meet the demands of a growing family. Without this, a house is either too big for a husband and wife or too small for a family which may get larger as times goes on.

A good example of a residence with compactness which permits whatever degree of expansion is necessary is the Cape Cod designed by architect William G. Chirgottis for House of the Week. Essentially, it is a one or two-bedroom dwelling enclosing less than 1400 square feet of living area on the first floor, with over-all dimensions of 53' by 28' 10". An excellent size for, let us say a middle-aged or elderly couple whose children have grown and are married. Their needs are met with a floor plan that includes a living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette, bathroom, garage, a bedroom and another room that can be used as for informal entertaining or as a guest bedroom.

This same one-floor setup is also ideal for a young couple with one or two small children, since the extra room just mentioned then can become a nursery. For the family whose immediate or future needs require additional space, the upstairs area can be made into two bedrooms and a bath as shown in the plans of the architect. This adds 590 square feet of habitable area to the house, turning it from a one-bedroom to a four-bedroom home without any increase in the size of the plot. Each family can make its own decision as to whether this upstairs area should be finished at the time of construction or at a later date.

Whatever utilization is made of the plans, the owners can be assured of a house with unpretentious but solid design producing comfortable living in an economical frame. Its foyer, with an open stairway that leads to the second floor, is the circulation center. From it, guests can move to the principle entertaining areas as the occasion demands—directly into the living room or the dining room or the family room without crossing any other room. Whether the family room is used as such, or for any other purpose, it provides an entry to the rear garden or patio through sliding glass doors.

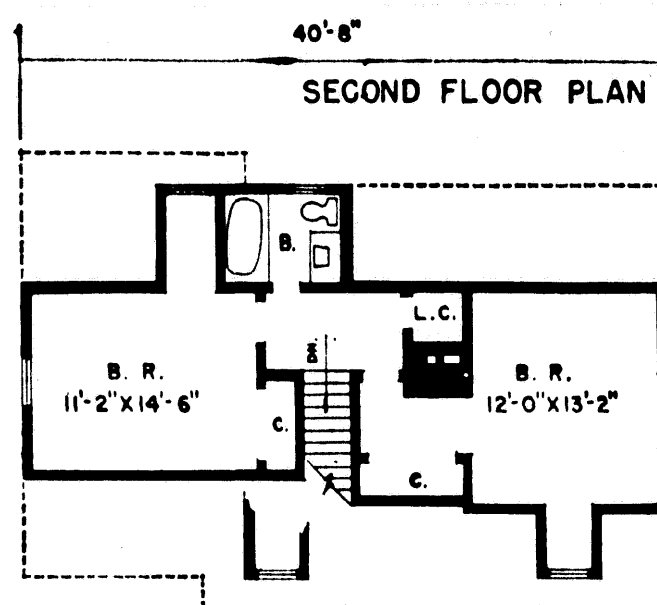

The living room has a brick-faced fireplace, the back of which creates a floor-to-ceiling brick wall in the adjacent dining room and a place for a built-in china cabinet. The kitchen-dinette is large enough to accommodate the needs of any family. There is an entry to the outside, as well as a connection between the garage and the service area, thus permitting easy movement of packages from the car to the house.

Upstairs, each bedroom has adequate wall space, cross-ventilation and over-sized closets. If there is no immediate need for this area, but it appears likely there will be in the future, it might be advisable to have the basic framework for the two rooms installed when the house is constructed. Then, later, the man of the house will have a comparatively easy time finishing off the rooms.

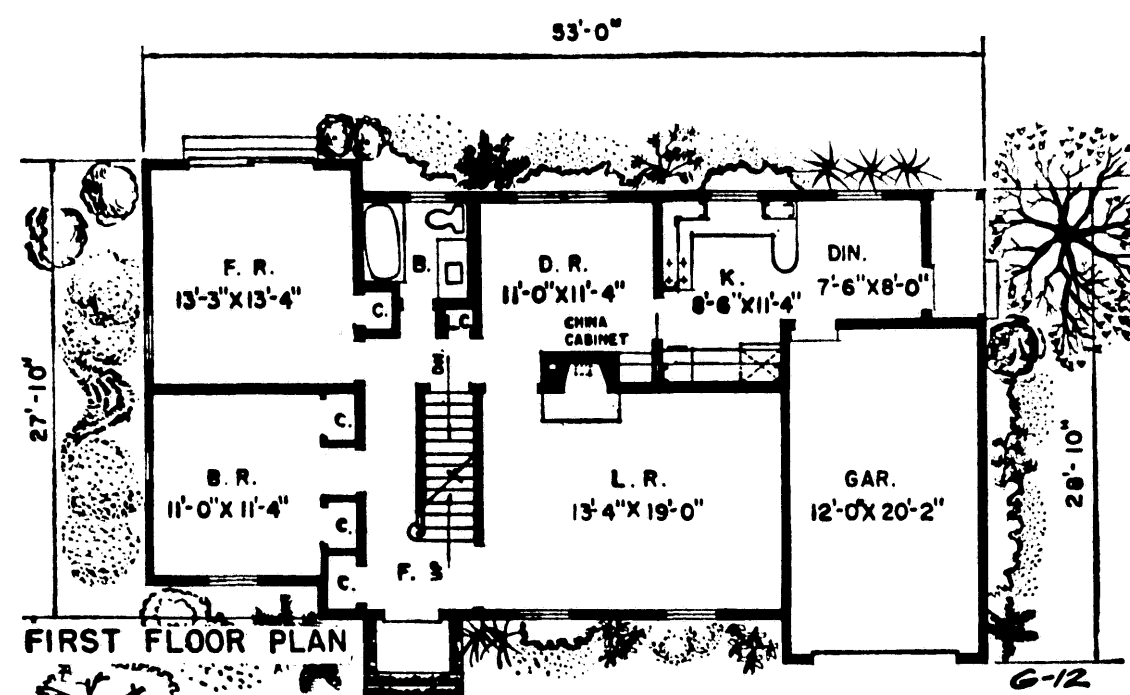

The exterior of this house has all the picturesque appeal of the well-done Cape Cod, including two roof dormers, horizontal clapboard siding and shuttered windows.

When size and money are factors, Design G-12 fills the bill.

G-12 STATISTICS

Design G-12 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, bath, bedroom and family room (or second bedroom) on the first floor, with 1380 square feet of living area. There are 590 additional square feet of habitable space on the second floor, divided by architect Lester G. Chirgottis into two bedrooms and a bath. The plans call for a one-car garage and a basement. Over-all dimensions are 53' by 28' 10".

FLOOR PLANS: First floor provides comfortable room arrangement for small family; second floor can be left unfinished until family grows to fit it.

Soldiers Shoot Only Blanks In Allegan Woods

ALLEGAN (UPI) — The Conservation Department has warned hunters not to shoot any soldiers this weekend. The soldiers will be shooting blanks only.

About 150 National Guardsmen of Company B, 2nd Battalion, the 126th Infantry, will conduct military exercises in a wooded section north of Allegan bounding the Allegan state game area.

The location is in sections 13-14 of Heath Township. While the site is not in the specialized antlerless deer hunting area, it is contiguous and in a wooded section.

As a safety measure, the Guardsmen will fire only blank shells during the field exercise Saturday and Sunday.

The warning to hunters was issued by Charles F. Friley, Allegan state game area director.

In English history, Babington's plot was a 1586 plot to assassinate Queen Elizabeth and enthrone Mary, Queen of Scots.

HONEY CAPE COD: Retaining all the features that have given traditional Cape Cods their charm and appeal down through the years, including the dormers, horizontal clapboard siding and shuttered windows, this house has a decided look of welcome.

Darlene LaFave Gerald Gagne Exchange Vows

Darlene Catherine LaFave of Wilson became the bride of Gerald Raymond Gagne of Spalding in a ceremony Saturday, Nov. 20, at St. Francis Xavier Church in Spalding. The Rev. Fr. W. Franzek solemnized the double ring nuptials at 10:30 a. m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles LaFave of Wilson and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gagne of Spalding.

The bride was attired in a white floor length beffuffed gown of French design scalloped chantilly lace fashioned with a Watteau chapel train. It featured a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a scalloped sabrina neckline.

Only attendants for the couple were Vernon and Ruth Sundquist.

After a wedding trip to Green Bay the couple now reside in South Bark River. The bride is a graduate of Bark River-Harris High School. Mr. Gagne graduated in 1962 from Powers Spalding High School.

Dr. John Collins Speaks At Rapid River PTA

Dr. John W. Collins, dental chief of the Michigan Health Department, presented the topical fluoride program for the Rapid River PTA Monday evening. Dr. Collins, who's hometown is Negaunee, told that topical fluoride prevents 4 out of 10 new cavities at a maximum cost of $15.00 for the four series of applications. Applications are made at ages 3 or 4 years old, 2nd, 5th and 8th grades. At these levels there are eruptions of new teeth and the topical fluoride applied at this time proves most effective.

Dr. Collins pointed out that the Michigan Health Department would provide necessary dental equipment and a qualified dental hygienist for the treatments. A community wishing to adopt this program needs a sponsoring organization and at least 75 children enrolled. A room must be provided and all records and fees must be handled by the sponsoring organization.

Rapid River PTA will sponsor the program in the Rapid River area. Notices will be sent to parents for enrolling their children in the program.

Special guests at the Monday meeting included Dr. B. S. Skellenger, Gladstone, who will serve on the topical fluoride committee, and delegations from the Rock and Nahma PTA's. Those representing Rock were: Mrs. Robert Koski, Mrs. Clayton Kaeriva, Mrs. Donald Berg, Nahma: Mrs. Rosario Groleau, Mrs. Richard McClintchy and Mrs. Helen Johnston.

Harold Gustafson, Ensign township supervisor, explained the Monday, Dec. 6 election which concerns a 2 mill tax increase to be levied for one year for operating the Escanaba airport. Gustafson, approving of the 2 mill increase, stated the need of improving the airport to meet the needs of the N. C. A. for jet planes. Gustafson also explained airport's importance to the county for industry status and future jobs.

Norman Slough, high school principal, told of the student's activities and sinking funds which have provided several new items for the school. The sinking fund was established from money left to the school by senior classes. The school's activities fund originated by the student council where all classes give 10% of their various activities profit to the fund.

The PTA voted to spend $250 on film strips for the schools, and to buy a poem balls for the school's Christmas program. The room count was won by the fourth, kindergarten and eighth grades. Lunch was served by the twelfth grade mothers, Mrs. Loyal Sistrup, chairman.

GLADSTONE

Harold Mackie, Former Gladstone Resident, Dies

Harold J. Mackie, 55, of 2010 W. Kilgore Rd., Kalamazoo, a former resident of Gladstone, died in his home early Thursday.

A native of Gladstone, he was born Oct. 20, 1910, the son of James and Linda Quistorf Mackie.

Mr. Mackie was sales manager of Marble Arms for 25 years before leaving Gladstone for Kalamazoo in 1961. At the time of his death he was sales manager for the firm of Short & Millard, commercial photographers.

Surviving are his wife, Annabelle; a daughter, Mrs. Charles (Carol) Donnelley of Portage, Mich.; a son, James I. Mackie of Kalamazoo; one brother, Leland of Pittsburgh; his mother, Mrs. Linda Mackie of Gladstone; and a granddaughter.

He was a member of St. Monica's Church in Kalamazoo where funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Kalamazoo.

Rapid River Library Joins With Gladstone

The Rapid River Library Board has voted to join the Gladstone Library. The Gladstone Board of Education voted at a recent meeting to include Masonville, Ensign and Bay de Noc Townships in their library services without any membership fee. The Rapid River Board's decision was made because of the number of varied volumes provided at the Gladstone Library. The Gladstone Library is located in the Gladstone High School. Hours are from 8 a. m. - 12:30 p. m. and 1 p. m. - 4:15 p. m. during school days. Evening hours are 7-9 Monday through Thursdays and Saturday from 1-4 p. m. The Rapid River Library is now closed. Anyone having books out from the library is asked to return them to the Gladstone Library or to Mrs. Charles Deonan at Rapid River.

Ensign 4-H Club Meets Dec. 13

Ensigns 4-H Club will meet Monday, Dec. 13, 7 p. m. at the Ensign Township Hall. The meeting date has been changed from the 6th to the 13th because of the annual airport election. Special guests at the Monday meeting will include Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Hagg, who will teach folk dancing, and the Rapid River 4-H Club.

Rock

Loss By Fire
The tractor shed on the Theodore Black farm three miles north of the Delta Mill was destroyed by fire of unknown origin early Sunday morning. Loss consisted of an attached chicken coop with about 30 chickens, a cradle, tractor, planer, table saw, welder, power saw, air compressor, and many other tools. The tractor was the only item partly covered by insurance.

Oampo Aalto filled his deer house with an 8 point buck, weighing over 200 lbs. Other hunters who filled their licenses, are Walter Mannie, Ralph Anderson, Bob Schan, Elmer, Eddie and Walter Lajjala.

Mrs. Olga Pulkkanen, 81, of Bronx, New York, and her sister, Mrs. Fannie Nuemi of Rock, are both making their home at the Oja Nursing home at Brampton. When Mrs. Pulkkanen came from Finland, she settled in New York, and her nephews, John and Henry Jokela had not seen her until she arrived at the Oja Nursing home, about six weeks ago. Mrs. Nuemi was admitted last spring. They are sisters to Isaac Jokela, deceased.

Straits Park Fears Quieted

ST. IGNACE—More than 150 area residents have been assured that a proposed $3 million gateway historic park at the north end of the Mackinac Bridge will not infringe upon their property rights.

Plans for the nearly 1,000-acre park were described at a meeting held at the courthouse here Monday by Charles Harris, deputy director of the Michigan Department of Conservation. He said the department hardly ever resorts to condemnation proceedings in acquiring properties.

Residents expressed fears that their homes in the area and overlooking the Straits of Mackinac and the bridge would be taken for the park.

The proposed park, said Harris, would include numerous museums and exhibits, including those featuring the early missionary days, native Indians, marine and bridge museums and exhibits plus a camping complex of five dormitory type buildings to house groups of visiting students.

The park would be able to accommodate more than 5,000 visitors at one time and would have parking and picnic areas for 800 cars. A state park in the area would be maintained as such.

Harris said the park plan was developed at the request of Gov. George Romney who said such an attraction is necessary at the main bridge gateway to the Upper Peninsula.

Minors Sell Lodge At Lake

Minor's Deerpath Lodge on Indian Lake has been sold by Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Minor, founders, to Mrs. Henry (Frances) Curtis of Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis are scheduled to arrive about April 20 and will operate the resort. The purchase includes 14 cottages, the Lodge and 15 acres of land, including 900 feet frontage on Indian Lake.

In addition, adjoining wooded property has been optioned with plans for development of trails and facilities for guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor began the development 30 years ago. The property was bought by them shortly after Mr. Minor returned from 2nd division Marine Corps service in France in World War I.

Mrs. Curtis is a realtor in Birmingham and her husband is a road contractor.

The property purchased includes part of the old trail used by Jesuit priests, Indians and others to go overland from the Indian settlement at Indian Lake to the Indian settlement between Garden and Nahma.

'Holiday With Flowers' Session Planned Monday

A "holiday with flowers" program will be sponsored by Schoolcraft Extension study groups at 7:30 p. m., Monday, Dec. 6 in Fairview school.

Mrs. Leonard Walters will present a program at 8 and 9 p. m. in flower arrangements for Christmas. A tea and cookie refreshment hour follows. All interested homemakers are invited.

Members of the Home Economics Council will hold a short meeting at 6:45 p. m., prior to the workshop.

Library Receives Democracy Gift From Townships

In behalf of the Michigan Townships Assn. a complete audio-visual kit on "Our Grass Roots of Democracy" has been presented by Fred Lesica, county clerk, to the Manistique School and Public Library.

The gift includes a script, 38 slides and a recorded tape which traces history of township government, various services of the boards and the election of supervisors.

Social studies classes of the school are using the materials, which also are available to interested groups.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Vidas King, Naubinway; Frank Rubick, 305 N. Cedar; Donald Collins, Engadine; James Lupton, Rte. 1; Joseph Vassau, 618 Arbutus.

Discharged were Margaret Gustafson, Stanley Burke, Sheryl Saffer, Nancy Armstrong and baby, Margaret White and baby, Robert Metcalf, William Prater, Josephine Gierke, Gertrude Deneau and Richard Stoll.

Stain Removing Pointers Given

Spot removal is a major prob-lem in homes in holiday periods, notes Grace M. Vill-wock, extension home econo-mist, but there are remedies.

When candles drip wax on tablecloths, scrape the excess off with a dull knife or fingers. Put the cloth between absorb-ent towels or a blotter and iron to melt the wax. After-wards, use lemon juice, bleach or carbon tetrachloride to re-move the stain.

When punch is spilled on taffeta or velvet clothing, the garments should be taken to the cleaners as soon as possible. Cleaners should be told what the spots are from.

Gravy and ice cream have a like removal method. If the fabric can be laundered, rub a solution of strong detergent over the spot and wash the ar-ticle in warm, soapy water. Fabrics which can't be washed should be put between pieces of absorbent paper and ironed. As no moisture is used, a wa-ter ring is not left.

For cranberry on linen, pour boiling water through the stain. If this does not remove it, try a bleach or sodium perborate.

Briefly Told

William Reaser, Island Lake, was taken by ambulance to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital at 7:40 p.m., Wednesday.

Approval has been granted the Manistique School district for a $50,000 advance state aid payment.

A regular meeting of the VFW Auxiliary will be held Monday at 8 p.m., in the club-rooms. Members are to bring Christmas wrappings for gifts for veterans at Newberry hos-pital. Initiation will be con-ducted.

During November, 64 aircraft used airport and radio facilities at the Schoolcraft County air-port, Vern. Bernard, operator reports. A number of hunters cancelled flights and came by car instead due to weather con-ditions, he said.

State Police ticketed Jacob Brinks, Plymouth, improper passing and Leonard W. Thiel, Ann Arbor, improper passing on marked hill.

Fine of $100 and costs of $4.30, with $75 suspended were assessed in Justice Court to David M. Collins, 20 of Che-sapeake on a State Police charge of being a minor in pos-session. Six months probation was imposed.

SPARTAN CAGERS Will Show New Offense Style

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State's basketball team, which lost a coach after a 5-18 season last year, starts a new campaign Saturday night against Western Michigan in the home debut of new Coach John Benington.

Benington, former St. Louis University coach, has changed the Spartan offense to a more deliberate style than the pres-sure offense used by his pre-decessor Fordy Anderson.

He hopes his set play pat-terns will be the winning formula to boost state up the pres-sure offense used by his pre-decessor Fordy Anderson.

Benington has called his of-fense a "percentage shot or point-a-shot" offense, indicating he wants his players to work the ball into the center for good shots.

Anderson's team performed on more of a run-and-shoot fashion and during 1963-64 season scored more points than any Spar-tan team in history, averaging 92.1 per game to rank third in the nation. The team scored more than 100 points on ten oc-casions.

However, with the exception of that year the Spartans have not had a winning team in five campaigns. Anderson's best mark was 19-4 in 1958-59 when the Spartans won the Big Ten title.

Benington, who began as an assistant under former MSU Coach Pete Newell 15 years ago, compiled a 134-99 record during seven seasons at St. Louis.

Durocher Makes First Trade As Chicago's Boss

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—They may be saving the Big One for a last-minute surprise, but so far the trading at the baseball meetings has been at the bargain basement level.

Going into the fifth day of the winter gathering, with the end only hours away, not one front-line player has been involved in the wheeling and dealing that began in Fort Lauderdale at the minor leagues' conclave and switched here at midweek when the majors set up shop.

Leo Durocher, returning to the managerial ranks after 10 years, made his first trade Thursday as boss of the Chicago Cubs—but it was hardly an earth shaker.

Durocher dealt veteran relief hurler Lundy McDaniel and outfielder Don Landrum, both pushing 30, to the San Francisco Giants for a couple of rookies—right-handed pitcher Bill Hands and catcher Randy Hundley.

Hundley Is Key

He left no doubt that he considered Hundley, 24, the key man in the swap.

"I know he's not much of a hitter, but he's a fine defensive catcher and that's what I need. He'll catch the ball for you and he can really throw."

Hundley got a $90,000 bonus from the Giants five years ago. He spent most of last season with Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League, as did the 25-year-old Hands.

McDaniel made 71 appearances in relief last year and although his won-lost record was only 5-6, he had a fine 2.58 earned run average. Landrum, who broke into the majors in 1960, not only 226 in 131 games for the Cubs last season.

The only other trade Thursday was 32-year-old first baseman Norm Siebern from Baltimore to the California Angels for 22-year-old rookie outfielder Dick Simpson.

Milwaukee Franchise

The American League was expected today to consider a bid from three groups for a franchise. The same groups—the Milwaukee Brewers, Milwaukee County and Dallas-Fort Worth—were turned down Thursday by the National League.

National League President Warren Giles met with the Milwaukee delegations for a couple of hours and then issued a letter of denial.

"It is the considered judg-ment of the members of the league that none of the applicants would be able to operate a franchise in 1966 and that league expansion in 1966 is not feasible."

The American League re-sponse was expected to be the same.

However, Alan H. Schig, president of the Braves, who was at one of a group of business men when the Braves moved to Atlanta, wasn't giving up hope. He pointed out that the National League statement was limited to the 1966 season and did not cover the door to future possibilities.

Both leagues met separately in morning and afternoon sessions. Thus, the deal were to be made again today.

World Champion Retains Crown

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—Salvatore Burrini of Italy, the deposed world flyweight cham-pion, said today that he'll "fight anyone" to prove he still deserves the title.

The 32-year-old Burrini was officially deprived of his crown by the World Boxing Associa-tion last month for refusing to defend against Japan's Hiron-ki Ebihara. Burrini knocked out Rocky Gattellari of Australia Thursday night in the 12th round of a bout billed locally as being for "the world flyweight championship."

"I am quite willing to meet Ebihara or anyone else to prove to everybody I am the world champion," Burrini said.

"I showed that I'm the world champion by winning against (Pone) Kingpetch in the ring and that's where titles are won, not at a conference table."

Asked if he was thinking of calling it quits now that he has made 88 professional appear-ances, Burrini said: "No, I'm not as old as everybody seems to think."

Burrini parried further ques-tions about his retirement by saying "Rockie was sup-posed to be the young, strong man but the fight speaks for itself."

Among the other current scoring leaders in the Peninsula are Rick Schater of Nahma and Phil Hartman of Cooks.

Coach Fred Boddy's Marquette Baraga Royals needed a 10 point scoring spurt in the final two minutes of action for their 77-67 verdict over previously undefeated Negaunee St. Paul this week. . . Guard Bruce Pesola's 28 points led the Royals to their third straight victory. . . Personal fouls proved costly for the winners as St. Paul cashed in on 23 of 31 shots off 24 infractions.

Howe Is Hurt, Wings Explode To Whip Bruins

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings turned on their best offensive show of the year Thursday night and exploded out of the National Hockey League basement with a 10-2 win over Boston.

Norm Ullman, the Wings' leading scorer last year, rocketed himself into the NHL scoring race again with a six-point outburst. He turned in the hat trick with a goal in each period and also chinked up three assists. He is now tied for fourth place with 19 points.

Bruce MacGregor and Floyd Smith had high point totals also, each scoring a pair of goals and Smith picking up two more assists. Doug Barkley, Ron Murphy and Val Fonteyne scored one goal apiece.

The only person who didn't enjoy the spree—excluding the disgruntled Boston goalies—was Gordie Howe. The 20-year-veteran, honored in a pre-game ceremony for the scoring of his 600th career goal, missed most of the game with an injured instep.

Howe Honored, Injured
Former teammate Ted Lindsay presented Howe with a floral horseshoe of 600 flowers and the 10,205 fans gave the star forward a standing ovation. He then presented commemorative pucks to the first two persons in line to buy tickets for the game and began play in the starting Detroit line. He was struck in the foot late in the first period and later was taken to a Detroit hospital for examination. Ullman scored his first goal in the first period shortly after Barkley had broken the scoring ice at 5:04. Murphy added his goal later in the same period.

Fonteyne, Delvecchio and MacGregor all scored once in the second period. The scoring in the third period, in addition to Ullman's final, was by Smith and MacGregor.

Boston was unable to score until Detroit had piled up an 8-0 lead. Then Parker MacDonald slapped a long shot from out front and it bounced off Johnny Bucyk's chest and into the Detroit goal.

Detroit goalie Roger Crozier gave up the final Boston goal at 7:52 of the last session on a shot by Murray Oliver with assists from Ed Westfall and Bucyk.

The win lifted the Wings to a 5-4-4 mark, just ahead of Boston with a 5-10-2 record. The Wings' next outing will be against the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday night.

Clippers Knock Garden Out Of No. 1 Position

MANISTIQUE—Coach Norm Jain's Cooks Clippers knocked Garden out of first place in the Central League standings by whipping the Jets 67-45 before a large crowd at the Manistique High School gym Thursday night.

It was Cooks all the way as the Clippers dominated all phases of the game. They leaped to a 19-12 lead in the first quarter and built their cushion to 34-18 at the intermission.

In notching their second triumph in three starts this season, the Clippers tossed in 36 field goals on 72 shots for 42 per cent and added 7 of 12 from the foul line. Garden had trouble finding the range and hit on 19 of 72 field goal attempts. The Jets made 7 of 15 from the free throw line.

The balanced Cooks attack was paced by Phil Hartman who scored 23 points and hauled down 15 of his team's 46 rebounds. Bruce Swagart scored 16 points and Neil Hartman tossed in 14. Swagart and Joe Carley gave Hartman a big assist on the boards.

Brent Rochefort of Garden matched Hartman in the scoring department with 23 points while Darrel LaVigne tallied 14.

The defeat was Garden's first of the season after an opening victory over Nahma.

Cooks also won the jayvee game, 36-33.

Jim Brown

Brown Needs TD For New Record

By CURT BLOCK

UPI Sports Writer

It's too early to close the book on the 1965 edition of the Cleveland Browns.

There may be some additions under the section reading "records established"—and beneath that the familiar name of Jimmy Brown.

The bone-crushing Cleveland fullback already improved on two of his personal marks last Sunday when the Browns clinched their second straight national football league eastern division championship.

His four-touchdown performance against Pittsburgh gave him a 1965 total of 19, his best output ever, and left him one shy of the league record set by Baltimore's Lennie Moore last season.

The Browns host the Washington Redskins this Sunday in their final appearance of the season before the home fans and are rated seven-point favorites to run their record to 10-2.

Other Action

In other NFL action, Western Conference pacesetter Baltimore is listed as a four-point choice over vastly improved Chicago.

Green Bay is a six-point pick to down Minnesota. New York is also six over Pittsburgh and ditto San Francisco over Detroit. St. Louis is rated two points superior to Los Angeles and Philadelphia is a four-point favorite to beat Dallas.

The Bears have lost only one game in their last eight—a month ago to the Colts, 26-21. Gale Sayers set a rookie scoring record last week and figures to add to it before the season draws to a close. In that earlier meeting with Baltimore, quarterback Rudy Bukich completed 23 off 44 passes for 290 yards and no one has been able to turn him off since.

Green Bay trails Baltimore by 1½ games with three to play. The Packers get a shot at the Colts next week and must escape the letdown that plagued them last week at Los Angeles. The Vikings have lost three straight. Coach Norm Van Brocklin yanked regular quarterback Fran Tankentown for inexperienced Ron Vander Kelen and the former Wisconsin ace directed the club to three scores.

Nelsen Returned

Steeler signal-caller Bill Nelsen returned to action for Pittsburgh after being sidelined with a knee injury and heaved three TD passes against the Browns.

Northern Wins Season Opener Against Calvin

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Northern Michigan jumped out to an early lead and was never headed as it piled up a 118-87 victory over Calvin here Thursday night.

Gene Summers led the Northern attack with 31 points. Dave Kovack contributed 24 and Brian Ferguson 22. Ed Douma led the Calvin scoring with 21 points.

Northern held a huge 66-37 halftime margin. The game was the first this season for each team.

Boys In Brass Get Salutes, Loot Air Base

CASTLE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) —Sentries heaved to attention and gave snappy salutes as the lieutenant colonel and his two junior officers drove through the gates of this Strategic Air Command (SAC) base.

No one seemed to notice that the officer with the silver oak leaves on his shoulder was barely tall enough to see through the windshield.

But despite his lack of height, the sheriff's office disclosed Wednesday, the 14-year-old "colonel" and two 13-year-old companions repeatedly entered this base in the uniform of officers last month.

In the course of about two weeks, Sgt. Gordon Tyler said, the youths made off with thousands of dollars in government equipment—including four trucks.

Tyler said the 11-year-old, from Merced, Calif., confessed tearfully after his arrest Nov. 16 while dressed in the complete flying uniform of a lieutenant colonel.

Started Last Month
Tyler said the episode, which county officers now call "the case of the crying colonel," began early last month when the three youngsters rode their bicycles onto the base.

The youth told authorities he and his friends visited the base exchange and officers' club.

where they stole Air Force officer uniforms with insignias ranging up to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

The boys said they revisited the SAC base several days later—this time one of them dressed as a lieutenant colonel and another as a captain.

Tyler said the youths received sharp salutes from the sentry as they drove two air force trucks off the base, drove them around nearby Merced, and returned them. They came back to the base about a week later and took another truck for a joy ride.

Authorities said the masquerade came to an end Nov. 16 when two air policemen spotted a truck in downtown Merced which had been reported missing from the base.

Stopped After Chase
After a high speed chase the truck was stopped—and there at the wheel, in a lieutenant colonel's uniform, was a 14-year-old boy barely tall enough to see over the dashboard.

Among the items surrendered by the three youngsters were a set of official Air Force orders, two flight crew checklists from a KC135 strato-tanker, two pilots' flight helmets complete with radio equipment, a pilot's clip board, several Air Force manuals, and pieces of nine Air Force uniforms.

Tyler said the FBI turned the case over to the sheriff's Juvenile Division and the federal government would not press charges because of the boys' ages. He said a petition charging them with joyriding has been filed in Merced Superior Court.

Police said the boys were familiar with the base layout because of tours they had taken there as Civil Air Patrol cadets, but base officials declined comment on the entire case.

Bank Robbers Caught; Face Federal Charge

hour after the robbery—the car that had fled the scene was found abandoned in a residential section at 11th Ave. S. and 17th St. There was some indication, unfounded as events later proved, that the couple then fled in a second car that had been parked in the area.

Officers patrolled streets and alleys, men in plainclothes made the rounds, road blocks were set up at all principal highways leading out of the city. The word among the officers was that the couple might be armed.

An Escanaba police officer captured Besaw in the 300 block, Sheridan Road, about 1:15 p. m. Besaw was walking on the street and made an effort to escape but did not resist arrest. He was unarmed.

Taken to the police station he was released and $930 in bills was found in his wallet. He also had $13 in his wallet.

He was booked at the Delta County Jail and questioned. Besaw was dressed in a clean yellow jacket of a leather-like fabric, dress trousers, and shiny black boots.

Besaw was born in Kaukauna, Wis., and was unemployed here, according to information he gave authorities. He was reported to have a police record in Arizona in connection with feigning and bad check charges.

While Besaw was being questioned the search for his woman companion continued.

She Had $2,037

The break came with a report from Joseph Germans, proprietor of the Hawatha Hotel, that a woman carrying a large amount of money was drinking at the hotel bar.

Officers literally "picked her up" and carried her to the police station, which is about a block distant from the bar. This was at 2:45 p. m.

She was searched at the station and $2,037.82 was recovered. Officers said that she had made purchases of clothing at Escanaba stores before she was arrested.

She was booked as Delores Darlene Hansen, 31, born at Fort Angeles, Wash. Officers said she indicated to them that she is married and has three children. Her previous address was Auburn, Wash., Rte. 1.

After she was received at the Delta County Jail she became ill and collapsed. A doctor and the fire department preceptor squad were summoned. She was checked over at St. Francis Hospital and returned to the jail.

She recovered and ate breakfast this morning, said Sheriff Johnson. Besaw told the sheriff that "I didn't sleep very well." They did not see each other until they were brought together for arraignment.

WILLIAM SERVANT, assistant vice president of the First National Bank, pursued the fleeing robbers so closely in his car that he obtained their license number. He holds the red jacket that was dropped by the woman robber before she entered the get-away car. (Daily Press Photo)

Wife Scolded; Nude On Bridge

LYONS, France (UPI) —A court fined Jean Tortane $40 Thursday for tearing the clothes off his wife, then scolding her while she stood nude on a bridge in the busy downtown section of Lyons.

Tortane said minutes earlier he had seen his 29-year-old wife, Josiane, run up to another man, kiss him and start to walk away with him arm-in-arm. The other man fled.

Hello, London

LONDON (UPI) —Mary Martin scored a show-stopping success Thursday night in the British premiere of "Hello, Dolly!" before a glittering audience at the Royal Theatre in Drury Lane.

Members of the audience shouted "welcome home" to Miss Martin as the red-haired star led the cast in half a dozen curtain calls. Miss Martin sang as an encore the title song of the show with special lyrics that made it "Hello, London," recalling her long stay at the same theater in "South Pacific."

Air Raids Hurt North Viet Nam

TOKYO (UPI) —Communist North Viet Nam admitted today that American air raids have hurt its economy and caused a cutback in industrial development.

The admission was contained in a brief report by the official Communist Chinese New China News Agency on a top-level meeting in Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

The report quoted North Vietnamese Vice Premier Le Thanh Nghi as saying the American air attacks made it necessary to "carry out an on-the-spot supply policy making full use of local materials and ensuring local production and consumption."

The New China News Agency said the Hanoi meeting involved "the development of local industry for 1966-67."

Vice Premier Nghi was quoted as saying the North Vietnamese people were "in a people's war against pirate U. S. air attacks."

Lions Continue Gift Campaign

For the eighth straight year, the Escanaba Lions Club has joined Lions Clubs from throughout the Upper Peninsula in soliciting Christmas gifts for mentally ill patients at Newberry State Hospital.

Don Scott, president of the Escanaba club, said pickup stations have been established at Gust Asps, Delta Sewing Center and Manning's Shoe Store.

"While most patients are hospitalized at Newberry for a relatively short time, some chronically ill patients have experienced years of hospitalization and have lost contact with their families and friends," a Lions spokesman said.

"It is for this group that gifts are being collected." "The Upper Peninsula Lions Clubs solicit your help in making the Christmas for these 'forgotten patients' a merry and memorable one."

A year ago, more than 3,000 gifts were received and delivered to the hospital. Each patient received more than one gift, which were distributed by hospital officials.

Narcotics Ring In High School

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) —Police and federal state narcotics agents continued an investigation today into an alleged narcotics ring uncovered at Roxborough High School.

Eight juveniles and two adults were taken into custody Thursday in the climax of the investigation started at the request of school officials who heard rumors of narcotics sales among the students.

Alex Lenchel, 17, who dropped out of school last month, testified at a juvenile court hearing before Judge Frank J. Montemuro Jr. that he had been using narcotics for three years and spent $300,000 on the drugs, pawning his clothes, shoes and other possessions to pay for them.

Norman Chankin, 64, operator of a Center City pharmacy for 33 years was held in $300,000 bail at the hearing on charges of illegal sale of dangerous narcotics, contributing to the delinquency of minors and corrupting the morals of a minor.

Tech Gives Sault Economic Boost

One feature of the economic impact of MTU-Soo on Sault Ste. Marie is the fact that since the first of July, seven faculty members have purchased homes in the city, making a total of 13 staff members who have moved off-campus in the past few years.

In several cases, on-campus houses vacated by faculty members are being held in reserve to meet the growing needs of the expanding student body, said Dr. Kenneth J. Shouldice, vice president.

He stated that plans for the 1966 to 1967 academic year call for an increase in faculty and staff members by at least 30 persons. The number of persons employed on Sault Branch campus has grown from 97 last September to 115, and 85 students are working part-time.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Lawrence G. Egda, 211 Ogden Ave., failing to stop in the assured clear distance; Curtis R. Dewar, 502 S. 7th St., failing to yield the right of way; Robert Brebner, 1424 N. 20th St., improper backing and no operator's license on person; Kerry F. Valquette, Escanaba Rte. 1, defective tail lights; Hilda M. Willman, 1819 3rd Ave. S., improper turn.

Jury Convicts Accused Killer

ANNISTON, Ala. (UPI) —Alabama Circuit Judge Robert Parker today formally sentences the first white man in modern Southern history to be convicted by a jury of murder in a racial slaying.

Parker was to impose a 10-year sentence stipulated by the all-white, male jury which found Hubert Damon Strange, 25, guilty of second degree murder in the night rider killing of Negro Willie Brewster last July 15.

The jury returned its verdict Thursday afternoon after more than 10 hours of actual deliberation. Twenty ballots were taken by the panel, with the votes reported to have swung from 8-4 for acquittal to unanimous agreement on conviction.

Two other suspects, Lewis Blevins, 26, and Johnny Ira Defries, 25, will be tried later in the slaying of Brewster, who was fatally wounded by gunfire from a passing car as he drove home from work.

The verdict caught Strange, his attorney, and Negro civil rights leaders by surprise.

Awards Will Go To Neil Staebler And Gov. Romney

KALAMAZOO (UPI) —Gov. George Romney and Neil Staebler will receive the first political leadership awards made by the Michigan Center for Education in Politics.

The awards will be presented at the Detroit Veterans' Memorial Building next Monday. Dr. James W. Miller, president of Western Michigan University and chairman of the board of the center, announced Thursday.
